

Blue Angels Lead Pilot to be Featured at EUFMC

John Foley to provide practical strategies for creating a culture of excellence

John Foley, who spent his early career as a lead solo pilot in the U.S. Navy’s Blue Angels flight demonstration squadron, will be the featured dinner speaker at EUFMC, the premier educational conference for fleets operating utility equipment. Foley will appear courtesy of International, and the truck manufacturer will provide all registered fleet attendees with a complimentary copy of his book, Fearless Success.

Foley is now the founder and CEO of John Foley Inc. and CenterPoint Companies. He first learned to perform consistently in high-stakes environments as part of the close-knit Blue Angels team. At EUFMC, Foley will share video footage from flights and thrilling stories about flying inches apart at 500 MPH and offer valuable lessons about the importance of preparation and communication to lasting success.

Foley’s message, the How of High Performance, emphasizes commitment, discipline and trust, and provides practical strategies for identifying and closing performance gaps, motivating audiences to push beyond what they think is possible. In Fearless Success, he offers secrets that elite performers know and practice on a daily basis to create a culture of excellence.

For EUFMC 2022, Driving Safety, Sustainability & Technical Expertise will be the focus of the General Session educational program. The conference also features a Drive-Through utility equipment demonstration and an Equipment Show with more than 60 displays.
